[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, June 24.—A detachment of mounted men have been sent by order of the General commanding from Lebanon to Stanford, Ky., to assist the civil authorities in ridding Lincoln and adjoining counties of marauding bands that have been holding sway there for some time past. The troops are only to be used in case the civil authorities are unable to suppress the disorder. The General commanding despatched a staff officer to the scene of the trouble, who has returned and confirms the reports that Henderson Hoach and his band of villains are a terror to law-abiding people, and have burned a house and have been shooting around promiscuously, and even whipped a woman. Troops will remain there for the present. Bloodshed, rapine and murder seem to be the order of the day in this part of the State, if recent reports can be relied on.

NEW YORK CITY.

The Escape of Col. Ryan—More Arrests of Cuban Sympathizers.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, June 24, 1869.

It appears that after bail had again been refused for Col. Ryan yesterday, and while in charge of the Deputy Marshal, they drove to the Metropolitan Hotel, on leaving which place and when near there the Colonel and Deputy were surrounded by the friends of the former. Suddenly the Deputy was seized and bound, and Ryan went to the Cuban rendezvous. Considerable commotion was soon observable among the rescuers, who left in squads for Jersey City, where they collected until late last night, when, with Col. Ryan and other officers, they embarked on tug boats, and were conveyed to a large steamship in the lower bay and all safely sailed for their destination. There were five hundred men in the expedition.

A Colonel Currier, formerly on General Hooker's staff, and two others, were arrested last night on information from a Spanish spy that they were in the recruiting business for the Cuban army. The Deputy Marshal seized by the friends of Ryan was treated to a champagne supper by Ryan's friends, but not allowed to leave their company until this morning.

MISSISSIPPI.

Republican Conservative Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

JACKSON, Miss., June 24.—The Conservative Republican State Convention adjourned last light, after organizing the "Union Republican Party of Mississippi," and passing resolutions looking to the early restoration of the State Government in strict accordance with the reconstruction laws, setting forth that the repeated failures of all former and existing organizations to restore the State and to meet the requirements of the Republican spirit of our institutions, by insisting on measures of proscription far exceeding the provisions of the Constitution of the United States and reconstruction acts, have rendered them unworthy of the respect and confidence of the voters of Mississippi; favoring the proposed Fifteenth Amendment, and deprecating the attempts to impose greater disabilities than imposed by Congress; pledging unwavering support to General Grant; favoring universal suffrage and universal amnesty on the reconstruction of the State to Federal relations, and pledging themselves to urge Congress to remove the political disabilities incurred by participation in the rebellion.

The Executive Committee was authorized to issue an address to the people and to call a State Convention to nominate State officers whenever expedient. Entire harmony prevails.

Taylor, into whose hands the boat money was placed, for one-half of $2,350, the amount received from passengers who went on the excursion.

Dispatches from Minister McMahon—Operations Against Counterfeiters—Startling Developments Promised—Mississippi and Texas Elections—Cadet and Other Appointments—Gen. Sickles and the Spanish Missions.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 24th, 1869.

MINISTER M'MAHON.

The Department of State has received dispatches from General McMahon to the 21st April, at which time he was well. His relations with Lopez are so cordial and friendly that after the great defeat of the Paraguayan army he was entrusted with the care of his family. There has been no attempt by Lopez to interfere with his free communication with this Government whatever. The impediments which existed are attributable to the course of the allies, who for a long time declined to send out a flag of truce with dispatches for him and fired upon the flag of truce sent by the Paraguayans with General McMahon's dispatches.

RAID ON COUNTERFEITERS.

Col. Whitely, Chief Detective in the service of the United States Treasury, assisted by Jno. Clarvoi, his principal attache, has made arrests in Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, and several Western States of counterfeiters, and secured counterfeit money, plates, presses, dies and other materials. About one dozen men altogether have been arrested in the last six weeks. The Indiana gang were arrested some days ago, near Ft. Wayne, while engaged in making money, and $40,000 of counterfeit notes of twenty-five cent currency were seized, and twelve sets of steel plates, fifty sets of dies, several presses and a lot of ink and other material. Solicitor Banfield has determined to support Colonel Whitely to the fullest extent of the law in breaking up gangs of counterfeiters whose operations ramify all over the country. A number of important arrests and seizures made will be given to the public in a few days, which will show a complicity of expert counterfeiters equal to anything ever before heard of in this or any other country. The twenty-five cent note counterfeit, just captured, is a finished imitation and a large amount of it has been circulated by the gang. The late arrest of a Government officer in Western New York, who was found to be in complicity with Sims, promises developments of great importance to the secret service. It is said Sims' friends expended $20,000 to obtain his pardon several years ago.

CADETS APBOINTED.

The following named persons have been appointed cadets of the United States Military Academy at large for 1870: Jos. F. S. Crane, of Ohio, son of late Brevet Lieutenant Col. Jas. G. Crane, of U. S. Army, recently murdered at Vicksburg; Bernard M. Bierne, son of late Sergent Bierne, U. S. Army; Lewis Morris, of New York, son of late Col. Morris, killed at Cold Harbor, Virginia, during the war; James M. Johnson, of Pennsylvania, son of late Lieutenant Col. Charles F. Johnson; Robert Page Waynewright, of New York, son of late Commodore Waynewright, of U. S. Navy; John M. Robinson, of New York, son of General John C. Robinson of U. S. Army; Charles M. O'Connor, of Iowa, son of Maj. O'Connor, of the U. S. volunteers; John D. Clem, of Ohio, a drummer boy in the army of the Cumberland; H. B. Febeger, of Ohio, son of Capt. Febeger, U. S. Navy; Nathaniel Pendleton, of West Virginia, who rendered important service to the army of Gen. Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley.

A MYSTERY.

When Secretary Boutwell was at Groton towards the close of last week, he wrote his private Secretary, Richardson, a letter with regard to the modification of his plan for the purchase of bonds and the sale of gold. He placed the letter with his own hand in the Groton post-office. The letter was recieved by Judge Richardson on Monday and by him its contents were kept secret until after the close of business, and it was not later than half past four o'clock when a letter was written to the Assistant Treasurer at New York on the subject, and the paragraph furnished to the press. Both these gentlemen are confident that owing to the strictness with which the matter was guarded, there could be no premature disclosure on the part of any government official.

GENERAL SICKLES—THE SPANISH MISSION.

President Grant has decided that the restriction preventing army officers from holding civil offices does not apply to officers on the retired list. This decision enables General Sickles to accept the Spanish mission, he of course to relinquish his army pay while occupying his diplomatic position. His name will be continued on the army register. He will leave New York for Madrid about the 10th or 15th of July. Mr. Hale will await his arrival. There is no probability that Mr. Perry will be reappointed Secretary of Legation.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS.

The following appointments have been signed by the President: J. H. Ublishton, Agent of the United States under the Convention between the United States and Mexico; Daniel C. Hielt, Postmaster, Urbana, Ohio; Edward C. Webster, Postmaster, Lasalle, Ill.

Jno. Cochran has been appointed Collector of Internal Revenue of the Sixth District of New York.

The commission of James L. Crane, Postmaster of Springfield, Illinois, was signed to-day.

CALLERS ON THE PRESIDENT.

Gen. Sickles was among the callers on the President this morning. Senators Carpenter and Boreman, and several members of the House of Representatives, were also in consultation with the President.

The customs receipts last week were $2,617,277. Internal revenue receipts today, $889,942.

VOLUNTEERS FOR CUBA.

The Charleston News of yesterday says the steam propellor Aspinwall, which left Charleston with dispatches to Hayti on Sunday, also carried a number of volunteers for the Cuban army. Some were residents of that city, but a larger portion were non-residents, and seemed to have come there by appointment.

ELECTIONS IN MISSISSIPPI AND TEXAS.

President Grant will, on the 10th of July, after the Virginia election, order an election in Mississippi, to take place on the 15th of September, and an election in Texas, to take place the last of September or the 1st of October.

INDICTMENTS DISMISSED.

In the Criminal Court to-day, all the indictments pending against Leonard Huyick, late President of the Merchants National Bank, were dismissed.

MAINE.

RICHMOND, VA.

Row at a Registration Office—A Citizen Killed.

RICHMOND, June 24.—A fight occurred at the Registration Office in the lower ward, this afternoon, at which Jos. Kelley, a prominent conservative ward politician, was mortally wounded and two policemen shot. Kelley was remonstrating against the arrest of a man whom the police had taken, when Capt. Callahan, of the police, and several privates took hold of him. Callahan, who had personal feud with Kelley, shot him through the body. Two policemen were slightly wounded by Kelley, and another by random shot from Callahan. The latter was arrested.

Registration closed to-day, the whites having a majority of about three hundred.

The High School Commencement.

Last night Masonic Hall was thoroughly crowded back to the windows on Fifth avenue, with an intelligent audience, gathered to listen to the commencement exercises of the Pittsburgh High School. The stage was filled with white robed young girls, black clad young men, the teachers of the school and a large delegation of clergymen and other well known gentlemen. An orchestra, led by Professor Toerge, opened the exercises and was followed by prayer by Rev. Noble, of the Third Presbyterian Church, after which Mr. Edward P. Wilkinson delivered a pleasing oration on "Science and Religion," which was followed by a thoughtful essay styled "Ask not for Leisure," by Miss Emma King, succeeded by a bright essay on "Isms," both humorous and grave in its nature, by Miss Isabel Seitz.

A very good oration by Mr. Amos L. Asper, on "The Unknown," followed this, and was succeeded by pleasant essays on "Strength and Culture" and "Hero Worship" by Misses Matilda Duval and Sophie H. Hoyer. Then came an oration on Pantheism, distinctly pronounced and evincing much thought, by Mr. John C. Martin. Miss Emma Dyer succeeded this with an essay on "Hidden Power," delivered clearly and with a self-possession remarkable in one apparently so young. "Drifting and Steering," by Miss Mary Walker, was a sweet and eminently poetical production. The "Mission of Evil" was the title of the next oration, delivered by John B. Herron, Jr., after which Miss Margaret Williams read an essay on Individuality. A rather profound production followed this, characterized by the particularly distinct enunciation of the orator, Mr. Clark H. Johnson, and then Miss Kate Keys read her essay, the subject of which was "Different, not Inferior." "The Present Age" was the title of Mr. George Glass' oration, and "The World's Questions" that of the lively and pleasing essay of Miss Elvira Reese. Mr. W. J. Hunter, after delivering an oration on "The Age of Chivalry," concluded with the Valedictory addresses. The whole programme was interspersed with music and each speaker was followed to his or her seat with cheers and showers of bouquets. One gentleman estimated that 130 bouquets containing probably 18,000 flowers, were thrown at the feet of these youthful graduates.

All the productions, without exception, were good and evinced study and culture, but we think that six of the young speakers are deserving of especial mention. Miss Hoyer's "Hero Worship" was a bright, sarcastic essay, delivered in a remarkably clear and distinct manner. Miss Margaret Williams, whose utterance was also clear and loud, was original, ironical, witty and a little cynical, and her stage presence was easy and graceful. When she concluded she was greeted with a prolonged storm of applause and bouquets that would have enchanted any actress or prima donna that ever trod the boards. Miss Keyes descanted on Woman's Rights in a good naturedly spiteful style, presenting an ususually graceful, logical and intelligent defence of her sex.

Of the gentlemen, Mr. Asper was noticeable for his earnest manner and studied graceful style, with, perhaps, a little too much motion and action.

Mr. Herron has a fine voice and his oration was unusually thoughtful, more so perhaps than any of the others. The valedictorian has a better voice than any of his fellow students, and although his style was not so elegant as that of Mr. Asper, or his work so profound as that of Mr. Herron, he combined the various excellencies of an orator better than any other speaker during the evening. We join him in congratulating the Faculty in having graduated so fine a body of young students. The presentation of their well earned diplomas to the graduating class concluded the programme of a pleasant and significant entertainment.

The Ninth Annual Reunion of the Alumni of this Institution, together with past and present scholars, will be held to-night in the chapel of the School.

A MAN has been arrested in Springfield, Bradford county, charged with incest and infanticide.

FOR some time Judge Buffington, of Kittanning, has been very ill, but he is now rapidly recovering.

A LITTLE daughter of Mr. Wm. Bartley, of Altoona, was choked to death last week by a grain of coffee.

FIFTY car loads of cotton, direct from the South, passed over the Lebanon Valley Railroad towards New York.

THE dwelling house of H. Crouse, Hopewell township, Huntingdon county, was totally destroyed by fire on the 11th inst.

THE proprietors of the Berks and Schuylkill Journal have bought the Reading Daily Times, and are running both papers.

A MILITIA COMPANY has been formed in Somerset and its second lieutenant is a great grand son of the founder of the Pittsburgh GAZETTE.

MISS BACHMAN, a lady ninety years old residing in Berks county, was killed by a runaway horse that knocked her down as she was crossing the road last Friday week.

ON the 17th of June Mr. Jacob Zimmermann, of Centre county, fell from the roof a barn in Clearfield county, 26 feet, to the ground, and broke his neck, causing instant death.

ST. PAUL'S Episcopal Church in Erie is advertised for sale by the Sheriff. The cost of it so far is $40,000, of which some $10,000 are unpaid. To secure this sum the builders propose to sell the unfinished edifice.

THE tents for the accommodation of the surplus crowd of visitors at Gettysburg, at the Monument dedication, on the 1st of July, are to be pitched near the renowned Kalysine Spring, in the grove in which Gen. Reynolds died.

ON Saturdey night last, William, son of Mr. John Byerly, of Hempfield township, Westmoreland county, shot himself in the hand, the ball entering the heart of the hand and coming out along one of the fingers, making a very serious wound.

THE Cumberland Valley Railroad will be extended from Hagerstown to Williamsport, Md., this summer. Satisfactory arrangements have been made with the owners of the land along the route, and some of them have already been paid what was thought right for damages. Work upon this new road will be commenced immediately after harvest.

ONE day last week a number of persons gathered at a bark peeling frolic near Wilmore, Cambria county. A few of the participants unfortunately indulged too freely in spirituous beverages, and as a result, a murder closed the frolic. Jacob Settlemoyer, a farmer of Wilmore, had a dispute with a drunken man about something, when the tipsy fellow struck Mr. Settlemoyer a blow with a club, which caused death in a short time.

A COLORED man, near Chambersburg, was the other day thrown from a mule which he was riding, but his feet became entangled in the harness, and the mule being frightened run for more than half a mile before he was stopped, dragging the man, head down, all the way, leaping two fences, striking the man's head against several stumps and finally bringing up short against an apple tree. The man, marvellous to relate, had no serious injury, and was about his work next day.

QUITE an extensive conflagration occurred at Meyers Mills in Summit township, Somerset county, on the 17th inst. The fire broke out at Webber's clothing and variety store, and was occasioned by the upsetting and explosion of an oil lamp. The house was entirely consumed and but few of the goods were saved. Several kegs of powder and barrels of coal oil were in an adjoining building, and during the fire they ignited and exploded, bursting out the walls of the house and scattering the debris in every direction. Many persons were found to be slightly injured after the explosion.

EX-PRESIDENT BUCHANAN'S tomb has been completed and placed over his grave at Woodward Hill Cemetery, Lancaster. It is a plain tomb ornamented with a wreath of oak leaves and acorns around the ovola of the cap; it consists of a single block of Italian marble from the quarries of Carrara. Its length is six feet three inches, its width three feet, its height three feet six inches. On one side of the tomb is carved the name "Buchanan," on the other side is the following inscription which was written by Mr. Buchanan prior to his death with directions that it be inscribed on his tomb:

James Buchanan,
Fifteenth President of the United States.
Born in Franklin Co., Pa., April 23,
1791.
Died at Wheatland, June 1, 1868.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from Indiana, Pa., says:

EDITORS GAZETTE: For more than a week we have had wet weather, and it still continues to rain; all the crops are looking fine but the corn, and the weather has been too cold for that; the wheat is down a good deal in price as well as in the fields; these heavy rains will make harder work for the harvesters. Harvest hands will be very scarce and I think it would be well to make a draft on the cities for some of their surplus population to help get in the crops.

Thieves are the last Indiana sensation, they steal horses, dried hides, hams and bread. Engineers are surveying all the coal territory northeast of Saltsburg with the intention of buying it. There are about 20,000 acres, in a body, of the best quality of coal—6 and 7 feet veins, which can be bought for from $30 to $100 per acre. N. B.

NEW YORK audiences are wound up to the highest pitch of enthusiasm by such lines as these, occurring in the latest burlesque imported from London:

"How doth the little busy bee
Delight to bark and bite!
He gathers honey all the day,
And eats it up at night."

WEST VIRGINIA.

THE annual exercises of the University of West Virginia were concluded on the 15th.

CAPT. A. C. LEACH, of Brandonville, has mysteriously disappeared, and is supposed to have met with foul play.

GEORGE COX, recently captured after escaping from the jail of Kanawha county, is supposed to be identical with Montelle, a notorious horse-thief in that region.

MR. ROBERT AUSTIN, while engaged in plowing on Mr. Elza Morgan's farm, about four miles from town, on the Evansville road, last week, killed twenty-eight copper-snakes—most of them full grown! —Morgantown Post.

MR. I. N. HOLLAND, of Palatine, shot and killed a grey eagle, near that place, on Saturday last, which is the largest bird of the kind ever yet seen in this country by even the "oldest inhabitant." It was measured, and proved to be six feet four inches from tip to tip of wings, and two feet and nine inches from point of bill under the breast to the end of the tail.—Fairmont West Virginian.

RATTLESNAKES infest the cemetery at Ravenna.

THE mosquito crop is unusually abundant in Portage county this year.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED car loads of stone are to go from Massillon to build a new church in New York.

ON Saturday, the 5th inst., about ten o'clock, a little girl two years and six months of age, daughter of Frank Wang, of North Georgetown, Columbiana county, Ohio, while playing near the stove, fell into a kettle of boiling water and was scalded in such a manner that she lived but about eighteen hours.

Washington Items.

The first through ticket from this city to San Francisco was sold to-day. The route was via Baltimore, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, and Chicago. The price paid was $176, and the time insured was seven days.

It is known that men in high position, reluctant to refuse, have signed papers of recommendation of different persons for positions under the Government, thereby embarrassing the respective Departments. It is rumored that in official circles that owing to this practice a new course will be adopted, to the effect that members of Congress and others are to be held bound by their several recommendations according to priority of date. No letters of recall will be permitted to affect the official file, unless they shall be accompanied by good and substantial reasons, to be placed upon the records.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the Secretaries, save Boutwell and Cox. The question of the recognition of the Cubans was briefly considered, and after discussion was postponed without action. There is no question, however, but that the feeling in favor of Cuban recognition is growing even in the Cabinet, and should the affairs of the Cubans continue to make headway, there is a strong probability of their recognition by this government within reasonable time.

A careful examination of the application of the Fourteenth Amendment to the next census shows that the Southern States, wherein the right of franchise is impartial, and that portion of the population which has been disfranchised on account of participation in the Rebellion is counted in the ratio of apportionment, will be greatly benefitted by the increase of the members of their Congressional representation. The Northern States wherein the franchise right is not impartial, will be injured to a corresponding extent by the decrease of their representatives. If, however, the Fifteenth Amendment is adopted before the census is taken, only those States wherein an impartial distinction on account of property, educational or nativity qualifications, will suffer. The amendment is in reality nothing, but a constitutional enactment of the Civil Rights bill as applied to the right of suffrage. It is possible, therefore, for any State to disfranchise negroes or Chinamen who have become citizens on account of the lack of any qualification, if at the same time they disfranchise whites for the same reason. It is quite probable that the Census Committee will recommend a decrease of the ratio representation throughout the entire country, and a corresponding increase of the number of representatives. Members of Congress complain that the amount of labor devolved on them in caring for the interests of their constituents is too great for one man to perform with promptness or satisfaction to the parties interested. They propose to lessen their labors by decreasing the number of their constituents.

An Anecdote by Admiral Farragut.

During the excursion down the Boston Harbor last week, Admiral Farragut told the following anecdote of former times: Just fifty years ago the present month, the old frigate Independence was coming through the Narrows in charge of the pilot, Wilson, bound into Boston, Farragut then being a young midshipman on board, and as he was standing by the man at the wheel, the executive officer of the ship seeing a coasting vessel directly ahead, suddenly shouted: "Helm hard-a-starboard;" but Wilson, seeing the imminent peril of such an action in so narrow a channel, only replied: "Tell them to say their prayers," and the frigate kept on her course. In a moment more the vessel was run over and sunk; but fortunately her crew safely scrambled on board the frigate as their craft disappeared under the waters. The anecdote was told to illustrate the bravery and cool self-possession of the Boston pilots, for the prompt action taken by Wilson, saved the frigate from a serious disaster. The veteran pilot Wilson referred to died a few years since at a ripe old age.

A NEW YORK paper says that false calves are manufactured and sold in extensive demand; the said false calves being composed of lamb's and other wool woven into the material of merino leggins, just like a pair of masculine drawers, sometimes bran is used, and in all cases the imitation is very artistic and perfect. In merrie England good false calves can be procured for about thirty shillings—one pound and a half; and in New York a good article can be procured for from seven to eight dollars, warranted to look in all respect like the natural limb, and oftentimes much better. At one theater in that city twenty-three pairs of false calves are used; in another, about twenty-seven, and in another eighteen.

CLIPPINGS.

THERE are a number of Indian families between Hokah and the Mississippi river, Minnesota, in the valley, who have taken up residences for the summer, and have planted about twenty acres of corn. These Indians formerly lived in that section of the country, but have of late years resided in Missouri. They return to Minnesota in consequence of its healthy climate.

THE Canadians hope at some future time to have a monarchy set up in the United States, and upon the rather remote prospect of such a thing the Toronto Leader says: "We do not expect to see any such great change carried on in our day as the establishment of a monarchy upon the ruins of the Republic; but still events equally remarkable and important have occurred in late years, and who can tell what the future may have in store for our neighbors?"

THE eccentric Princess de Beauvan-Craon pleaded her own cause before the Paris tribunal. Dressed in mourning, a mass of black lace falling round her pretty figure, her fair hair curling on her shoulders, the Princess, with her large expressive eyes, naturally filled all present with admiring interest. She had a painful charge to refute; her family had attempted to prove her insanity and incapability of managing her affairs. But her spirit, wit and beauty won her case.

THE track of the Colebrookdale Railroad, in Pennsylvania, is now laid three and a half miles out from Pottstown. It will be completed to Boyertown the latter part of July or the beginning of August. The grading s iall done between Boyertown and Mount Pleasant, with the exception of about one mile. The surveys are also made, and the road located from that place to Hosensack Gap, where the Perkiomen Railroad and the Colebrookdale are to be united.

THE New York Tribune says: "We see from the newspapers of Memphis that they are claiming theirs as the best paved city in the South. From the same papers we see that the contractors [Northern men] who put down the pavements are ill-esteemed because they want to get their pay. We see also in the same journals earnest appeals to Northern capitalists to make investment in the South, and exhibits of inducements offered for Northern capital. Are we to understand that this Memphis business is a sample of the inducements they offer?"

HERE is a broadside fired by the Etoile Belge into the American paper at Paris, the Continental American: "That flunkeyism is the character prevailing among a great many Americans traveling in Europe, is too notorious a fact to be disputed by anybody. In keeping with this by no means enviable character of American travelers in Europe, is that of their little journalistic representative in Paris, the Paris Continental American, which prostrates itself, on every occasion, in the dust before the sham Court at the Tuilleres. This thing is sad, humiliating and disgusting."

REDUCED gentlewomen are said to be daily increasing in England, and in order to assist them, a Ladies' Work Society has been formed to furnish to its members materials at wholesale prices, and to dispose of the products of their labor. The prospectus of the Society gives a list of over two hundred articles on which ladies can work. The annual subscription of each member is placed at $1 25, and the Society is not to charge over sixteen per cent. for store expenses on the articles sold. The number of articles sent at one time by any member cannot exceed six for a single subscription.

CALIFORNIA wines, it is stated, are lacking only in age to compete with the products of European vineyards. The wine-growers, therefore, must become more firmly established in the business and invest a greater amount of capital, so as to keep a large stock of wine on hand. A serious obstacle is the want of railroad transportation between San Francisco and the interior. At present, in many instances, it costs more to bring the wine from the places where the grapes are raised to San Francisco than to pay the freight on the same quantity from France or Germany to California.

CABLES AND ANCHORS.—The annual statement of marine losses made recently by the London Lloyds Association of Marine Insurance shows the importance of perfect cables and anchors. The average casualties arising from faulty ground tackle amounted in 1866 67 to 748. In 1868, after the passage of the English law requiring cables and anchors to be proved, the casualties were 417, a reduction of 331. In 1866 67 the loss of life was 1,995, while in 1868 the number was reduced to 1,118, a saving of 877; and this, notwithstanding that 1868 was remarkable for very stormy weather and great increase of dismasted ships.

THE Allegheny Valley Railway Company has changed its mind in regard to the position of the River Bridge. They now propose to cross from a point above the Christie House, Venango City, to a point below Siverleyville. The work on the shore pier has been stopped. After the directors of the Buffalo and Erie Railway have been chosen, it is expected that they will entertain the proposition for consolidation, made by the Michigan Southern and Lake Shore Company. The terms of the proposed consolidation havo been drawn up and agreed to by the officers of the last named company, and have only to be approved by the Buffalo and Erie.

THERE are very few of the many who carry watches, who ever think of the complexity of its delicate mechanism, or of the extraordinary and unceasing labor it performs, and how astonishingly well it bears up and does its duty under what would be considered very shabby treatment in almost any other machinery. There are many who think a watch ought to run and keep good time for years without even a drop of oil, who would not think of running a common piece of machinery a day without oiling, the wheels of which do but a fraction of the service. We were forcibly struck with this thought the other day, upon hearing a person remark that, by way of gratifying his curiosity, he had made a calculation of the revolutions which the wheels in a watch make in a day and a year. The result of this calculation is as suggestive as it is interesting. For example—the main wheel makes four revolutions in 24 hours, or 1,460 in a year; the second or centre, 24 revolutions in 24 hours, or 8,760 in a year; the third wheel, 192 in 24 hours, or 69,080 in a year; the fourth wheel (which carries the second hand), 1,440 in 24 hours, or 525,600 in a year; the fifth, or scrape wheel, 12,964 in 24 hours, or 4,728,400 revolutions in a year; while the beats or vibrations made in 24 hours are 388,800, or 141,812,900 in a year.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea. Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point with seven feet two inches in the channel. Weather clear and pleasant and all that could be desired for out-door business.

The Kenton, from Portsmouth, is the only arrival we have to report. The Glendale, from St. Louis, is due and will doubtless be found in port this morning.

The Tom Farrow and barges departed for St Louis with a good trip.

The Petrolia has taken the place of the Grey Eagle in the Parkersbug trade.

The towboat Hawkeye will leave for St. Louis to-day with some 300 tons of railroad iron and she has 100 tons of nails engaged at Wheeling. At Parkersburg she will take in tow two barges of oil. The railroad iron was made and is shipped by the Superior Mills.

Several of the tow boats that departed on the recent rise with coal, were so unfortunate as to stick some of their barges at different points below. The Lion stuck one barge at Brunot, and went on with the balance. The Grey Hound stuck three at Merriman, and the Blue stuck (we do not know how many) at Horsetail.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, will positively depart for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi to-day.

The Kate Putnam, Capt. G. W. Reed, takes her departure for Cincinnati and Louisville to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Wauanita, Capt. C. A. Dravo, is up for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi. She will doubtless get away to-morrow.

—The Stella and Alps left New Orleans for this port on Tuesday, and the Lorena arrived at St. Louis the same day.

—The Great Republic left New Orleans with a light cargo, and will make a quick trip to St. Louis.

—The Beardstown was at Wheeling on Tuesday. She will go within ten miles of Pittsburgh, and then return.

—The Jennie Baldwin arrived at St. Paul Saturday, and took her place in the Dubuque line, the business rendering five boats, instead of four, as heretofore, necessary in the daily line between St. Paul and Dubuque.

—A few of the enterprising young men of Pekin, Illinois, have built a small steamboat, which is to be used for pleasure and profit. She is built of Tazewell timber, by Tazewell men, while her machinery is also of home production.

—The contract for carrying the mail from Paducah up Tennessee River was awarded on the 15th to a man named Winters, of Alabama. He agrees to carry the mail three times a week for $3,000.

—Certain well-known parties of St. Louis, practical boatmen, are engaged on plans for the construction of a propeller suitable for the navigation of the Mississippi and the ocean. They have abundant means with which to carry out their project.

—A Louisville telegram says: The Bermuda was sold to Captains Benson and Watts, of Madison, for the sum of $6,000. They intend to place her in the Madison and Cincinnati trade. They expect to have her ready for the first trip in the trade next week.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Monday says: The Thompson Dean arrived at Carondelet at twelve o'clock on Saturday night, and put out there 500 tons of railroad iron. But for the burning of some of her boiler rivets, which detained her eight hours, she would have made the trip in seven days, although she had for Cairo the enormous cargo of 1,100 tons. She brought here forty cabin passengers, &c., including ex-General J. B. Hood's mother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Hannan. The General comes up next trip.

VALUABLE CITY LOTS FOR SALE.
The undersigned, as trustee in the partition of the real estate of AGNES KNOX, Deceased,
By order of the District Court of Allegheny county, will sell at public sale, on the premises, on WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1869,
At 2 o'clock P. M., that very valuable property on Fifth avenue, city of Pittsburgh, consisting of TWO LOTS. First—A lot fronting on Market street 30 feet and extending the same width, along the south side of Fifth avenue 101 feet to Market alley. Second—A lot on the opposite side of Market alley; fronting on Fifth avenue 20 feet and running back, preserving the same width, along Market alley 30 feet. On the first mentioned lot are FOUR FRAME TENEMENTS, and on the other a THREE STORY BRICK BUILDING.
These lots are among the most valuable in the city of Pittsburgh, being on the principal street and in the centre of business. The attention of capitalists is particularly invited to them, as they are desirable chiefly for the value of the lots, the buildings not being of much consequence, and possession for building purposes can be obtained on 3 months' notice. The property now rents for over eight thousand dollars. The purchaser will receive the rents after July 1st.
THE TERMS OF SALE.
One-third cash, and the remaining two-thirds in two equal annual payments, with semi-annual interest from day of sale, secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 49¼f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 136¾.

THE Committee of Ways and Means have arrived via the Pacific road, in San Francisco, after a brief and pleasant journey across the continent.

THE new cable from France to America is being rapidly laid by the Great Eastern. Not many days more and France will be tied as closely to our country as England, and electricity will work for all through the depths of the ocean.

THE Venango Citizen announces that the engineers of the Jamestown and Franklin Railroad have determined on tunnelling the hill at Oil City, going in at the mouth of Holliday Run and coming out above the river bridge. The work is to be put under contract forthwith, and to be completed within a short time.

THE LEASE for one thousand, lacking one, years of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was yesterday consummated by the bond and stockholders of the corporation. Out of fifteen million dollars of the stock voted only a single million was entered in the negative, and the principal part of that, we have reason to believe, was polled by the President of the P., F. W. & C. Company, who is said to have been consistently opposed to the measure from its inception. Thus has been accomplished a grand move in railway matters, and we have no doubt but the consolidation will prove beneficial to the business community as well as advantageous to those immediately interested as stock and bond holders.

THE Ohio Democracy hold their Convention at Columbus July 7th. They are likely to nominate Judge R. P. RANNEY for Governor, and slide back into the old rut where so many wheels have already rolled over them. Some of their journals strive to avert this catastrophe, by urging the nomination, instead, of that incomparable humbug, S. F. CARY, upon a platform of mingled temperance and whiskey, the rights of labor as he expounds them, and the revived dodge of greenback redemption for the public debt—the whole mingeld with as small a proportion as possible of the pure and original democracy. But CARY can't win. RANNEY will be the choice of the Convention, and the people of Ohio will bury him in October, for the third and last time, beyond the hope of any temporal resurrection.

OUR READERS will remember the terrible accident which occurred near Port Jarvis, on the Erie Railroad, in April, 1868. The loss of life was frightful. The accident, at the time, was attributed by the public to a broken rail, but the officers of the road did not partake of the belief. Immediately after the accident, a swarm of thieves, known not to have been on the ill-fated train, made their appearance on the ground and set to plunder the dead, dying and helpless victims. This circumstance led to the suspicion that the rail had been tampered with, and the band of thieves lurked in the neighborhood awaiting for the train to jump the track. Experienced detectives were employed to trace out the criminals, and more than a year's diligent labor led to the arrest of one of the number, a man named JOHN BOWEN, who is at present confined in the Pike county jail, at Milford, Pennsyvania. The evidence was sufficiently strong to fasten the guilt upon him, but the depraved wretch, suffering with the heavy load locked in his heart, unburdened himself, and made a full confession of the crime. No punishment has ever been invented which would prove too severe for the fiends who could plan such a fearful act and carry it into execution. In view of this development of human depravity, it may be safe to charge most of the accidents credited to broken rails to gangs of robbers who take that method to secure booty.

THE GEORGIAN TURNING-POINT.

The Supreme Court of Georgia holds their colored citizens to be eligible to office, the right to vote of necessity involving the right to be voted for. This decision covers all the questions in dispute but one; under the constitutional privilege of the legislature to be, itself, in its two branches, the sole judge of the qualifications of its members, its present exclusion of the people of color from membership cannot be reached and overturned by any judicial authority. The decision really covers the whole field of debate upon the true intent of the local constitution and code of laws, establishing clearly the abstract right of a colored man to election as a legislator, but recognizing the legislative power to disregard that right when he presents his credentials. It is apparent that this forces the rebel interest into an awkward position, and one which cannot be held for any considerable length of time. It places the exclusion of the colored members as so plainly an act of substantial usurpation, that the good sense of the people,—a quality which even the white men of Georgia cannot be wholly without,—must, sooner or later, submit to the inevitable necessity, and consent to the complete inauguration of a principle which their highest tribunal has thus declared to be the law. When that consent shall be so given, by the legislative recognition of this decision in all its bearings, the State will find itself instantly relieved from the existing embarrassments in its national status. The wisest thing they can do is to convene their Legislature forthwith, acknowledge the action of the Supreme Court, and restore the expelled members to their seats. That would end the Georgian question at once—and it is the only mode of settlement which they will find comfortable for themselves. If, however, the State shall prefer the Federal coercion rather than a dignified and honorable submission to the authority of its own Supreme Court, it has only to persist in the line it is now pursuing. Our sincere trust is that State pride will now intervene, and improve this excellent opportunity to withdraw honorably and promptly from a prolonged controversy with the Reconstruction policy. No better turning-point is likely to present itself.

OUR EXACT POSITION.

Much trouble has been caused throughout the country by the constantly recurring disputes between property-holders concerning the boundaries of their lands, which were undetermined on account of the inaccuracy of the surveys by which they were first laid out. The amount of litigation resulting from this source is enormous, not only in the United States, but also abroad, where it had become so frequent a cause of disturbance and trouble that in England and France the Governments have taken upon them to ascertain the true boundaries of the real property of every land owner, and the ordnance maps of those countries, which have been the result of this action are models of minute accuracy. We believe none of the United States have as yet undertaken anything of this sort, but should they they ever do so they will find that many of the necessary elements of such work have been furnished for them by the United States Coast Survey, which, in its recent prolonged campaign, has determined accurately the position on the surface of the earth of many of the most noted points in the country. Among these is Pittsburgh, and through the united labor of the Observatories of Cambridge and Allegheny the longitude of the latter has been determined to within a small fraction of a second.

The latitude of the Observatory had to be determined by an entirely different process from that used in finding the longitude and involved several months of labor, and the skilled use of the instruments with which the Allegheny Observator, through the liberality of some our citizens, has been provided.

Professor LANGLEY, of the Western University, has had this important work in charge, and we congratulate him on its successful termination. As determined by these observations, the longitude or difference in time between the observatories of Washington and Allegheny is 11m 50s.3—eleven minutes and fifty and two-tenths seconds. The latitude, or distance from the equator, is 40 deg. 30 min. 36 sec.—forty degrees twenty minutes and thirty-six seconds, with a possible inaccuracy of not more than two rods. Although these observations are of a thoroughly scientific character, they are of a practical utility which must be recognized by every civil engineer and by many others who are interested in the exact determination of our position.

THE PHILADELPHIA RESOLUTIONS.

The platform which was delineated by our friends at Philadelphia is compact and of by no means extended lines, yet it is remarkably successful in comprehending all the political issues which can at this time legitimately engage the attention of the people of Pennsylvania. In recognizing with gratitude the victory of 1868, we re-affirm the principles for which that momentous struggle was made, and which are to live forevermore, in the ripe fruits which they have even now begun to yield to the American people, under the reorganization of their domestic and foreign politics, in the interests of international honor as well as of the internal repose and prosperity of the Republic.

Republicanism in this great Commonwealth honors itself in seizing its first official occasion to acknowledge the fidelity with which these principles have been adopted as the guides of the present National Administration. Contemplating the precision with which President GRANT bows to that unbending line of political doctrine which the great party of the Republic has been steadily arrayed upon in the past eight years of trial—regarding the frank cordiality with which the President has accepted the wisdom of that Statecraft which the General defended in triumph against the avowed hatred of rebel millions—not forgetting the assured confidence with which not a few citizens, ill-wishers to our party, and to his honor, predicted, less than twelve months ago, that his election would prove the final ruin of American Republicanism, as upheld and loved by the majority of his countrymen—considering, in fine, how much of loyal duty to himself, to his party, to his country and to the history of the race, we have looked to him for, and how gloriously he has justified his friends and scorned his traducers,—why should not Republicans rejoice in that victory which made him President, and gratefully confess how clearly their just confidence has been maintained?

We proclaim the personal and political equality of all men under the Constitution and laws, and we uphold the official declaration of that equality, in the Legislative ratification of the XVth Article. If our opponents desire an issue on the bare principle, since the act is no longer a matter of controversy, they are welcome to it. The act is not to be undone; but, undone, it would be done again. Pennsylvania is a Commonwealth of freemen, who love freedom because they understand what it means, and who have not the wish to deny its unrestricted rights to any man who loves the music and follows the flag of the Union. Let the partisans who would have it otherwise, take the issue, if they will, upon the principle which is immortally enshrined in the American heart,—and they will live to rue the folly of their opposition.

The Administration, the country, international comity, public law, and the common sense of Christendom, must alike recognize the sterling wisdom, with which our Republicans, and those of that other great State which binds our border on the West, concurred, at the same hour, in expressing their entire confidence in the wisdom of the national policy toward foreign peoples, and in declining to embarrass the Executive counsel with any partisan intervention. Mr. SUMNER and those other politicians who have proposed to make a political issue upon the Alabama controversy with England, need not pause either in Pennsylvania or Ohio, they must go farther West, if they can go far enough, to find a Republican endorsement for that precious proposition.

We sympathize with every struggle for liberty. We bid a cordial God-speed to the Cubans, who avow their resolution to be altogether free; we wish them well, but we see our first duty to ourselves. Not even for free Cuba, are we to forget the securing, sooner or later, of that solid satisfaction which is now due to the Republic from one of the greatest nations of the earth, for her violation, to our great injury, of every substantial principle of international neutrality. We cannot afford to release England from her just obligations, by aiding Cuba to throw off her allegiance to Spain. International justice embodies a principle fully as admirable as that of national freedom, and the just claims of each have no conflict between them.

Touching the rights of labor, we uphold those rights in the American interest. The Republicans of Pennsylvania can never speak of these with any uncertain voice. Do our opponents make an issue on that? Shall they talk of their love for the laboring man, when they refuse, year after year, to strike hands with us in sincere and effective efforts to secure an adequate protection for American industry? They are welcome to all the cheap capital they shall know how to make out of superficial schemes for the promotion of some class-interests at the expense of others in our midst, so long as they shall stand confessedly hostile to that American system which would protect all our industries, and all the national interests which these embrace, against the rivalry of any other people on the planet.

The platform has been wisely framed. It covers all the needful ground, and it is broad enough for the whole Union to stand upon. Its parts include all the points which are of national or local concern today, and upon which the Republican party is agreed. There was no need to say more, nor could more have been justified. Quite enough of doctrine is proclaimed to call out a full Republican support, from every friend of General GRANT, of American honor, of a peaceful and prosperous Republic, and of the equal rights of humanity.

BUTLER, PA.

The Shugart Poisoning Case—Prisoners Demand Separate Trials—Alleged Irregularity in the Venire—Motion to Quash the Array of Jurors—Evidence in Support of the Reasons Assigned—Argument by Counsel.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUTLER, PA., June 23, 1869.

THE SHUGART CASE

Was called up immediately upon the opening of the Court, 8½ o'clock Tuesday morning, when the first skirmish between the counsel occurred, evincing the ability and thoroughness with which the contest will be conducted. The attendance outside the bar was not very large, which is partially accounted for by the general expectation that the session would, for the most part, be occupied by arguments on the legality of the jury array.

The prisoner, Mrs. Shugart, occupied a seat alongside her counsel, directly facing the witness stand. She was dressed in deep mourning, black dress and shawl, pinned closely around her, and wore as a head covering a large, sombre colored Shaker bonnet, which concealed her face from the view of all but those at whom she looked. She is of medium height, slender and gracefully formed, with a quick, active step, and has evidently been more than ordinarily handsome. Her features are regular, and her deep, black eyes of piercing brilliancy never seem to rest for more than an instant upon any object. Her appearance indicates a complete breaking down. It is said by those who have seen her in Court for the first time since her imprisonment that she was hardly recognizable, and looked double as many years older as she had been months in her cell. Trouble and imprisonment, and, more than all, communing exclusively with her own thoughts, have left their impress upon the victim. She seemed to be laboring under a state of great nervous agitation, and her countenance was generally drawn up as though in agony of terror and deep anxiety, while she kept alternately weeping and muttering inaudibly, as though in prayer. She appears deprived of hope, and irresistibly attracts the pity and sympathy of all but the most hardened beholders.

THE CASE CALLED.

At the opening of the Court, Judge McGuffin and his associates on the bench, the case was called. The indictment charges Philopœna Shugart and Joseph Martin with the murder of Jacob Shugart.

Judge McGuffin inquired if it was the intention to demand separate trials for the accused. If there was to be a joint trial, Martin would be brought into Court: but if a separate trial was desired, he could remain in jail until the proper time.

The defense stated that separate trials were desired, and that the necessary proceedings would be taken at the proper time.

The list of jurors was called over, all answering to their names.

TROUBLE ABOUT THE JURY.

Col. Jno. M. Thompson, counsel for the defense, arose and moved to quash the array of jurors, for the following reasons:

First. There was no venire authorized or ordered as required by law.

Second. No venire was issued or executed, and any jurors, or alleged jurors, in attendance were not called, drawn or notified as required.

Third. The list of jurors alleged to be drawn is not on file, but only a paper purporting to be a "copy."

Fourth. The alleged list is attested by one of the Jury Commissioners, J. W. Christy, who was not present at the alleged drawing, C. McClung being the only one who did attend.

Fifth. There are less than forty-eight jurors drawn and summoned and on the alleged panel.

Sixth. As it appears already that a number of persons who are in attendance now are not on the list, but were notified to attend last week, and an equal number should be here of last week, but are not, the panel is by this mistake diminished to that extent.

Seventh. The list of jurors as drawn (illegally) was taken to Sunbury by C. McClung, ten miles away from the county seat, and has ever since remained and is there now.

Eighth. The jury wheel is not now and never has been in the custody of the Jury Commissioners, but is in the custody, possession and control of the County Commissioners of Butler county.

Ninth. That the alleged venire, directed to the Sheriff and Jury Commissioners, and in evidence, authorized the Sheriff to summon the alleged jury to attend on the second Monday of June, 1869, being the 14th day of said month, while the jurors were summoned to attend on the third Monday of June, being the 21st, instead of the 14th, of said month.

Mr. Thompson exhibited the list of jurors, showing that fifty jurors were alleged to be drawn, while only forty-five had been summoned and returned by the sheriff. The names of Daniel Porter, Ebenezer Christy, E. F. Mooder and H. G. Gibson were on the list, but were alleged not to have been notified. He asked that his motion be granted without argument, or that they be allowed to substantiate their charges.

The Court refused to allow the motion to prevail without proof, and called for the testimony, which was as follows:

J. W. Christy, sworn—Am one of the Jury Commissioners of Butler County; was not present officially or otherwise, and did not participate in the drawing of the jurors for the June term of Court, 1869. Don't recollect when the drawing was made. Have no knowledge of it, except from hearsay. Do not know that any jury was drawn, further than the papers say. Had verbal notice of the time the drawing was to take place, but was absent from the county at the time. [List produced.] This list is in my handwriting; can't say positively where it was made out, we met in Mr. McClung's house, at Sunbury, about eleven miles from Butler; didn't get through with the lists, and I took some papers home and finished them; think the list was made from the slips of paper drawn from the jury wheel. [The witness here described the manner of drawing for jurors.] The list is made out in alphabetical order; not always done in the presence of the full Board; I certified the list to be true on the faith of Mr. McClung's statement; I consider it the official list.

Cross-examined. — Keep the jury wheel in the Commissioners' office. Have no method of correcting errors after the jury has been drawn. The original tickets are thrown away. The drawing is done in the Sheriff's office.

Charles McClung, sworn.—Am one of the Jury Commissioners; never signed this list until this morning. [This witness testimony was in corroboration of Mr. Christy's.]

The testimony for the defense here closed, and the following was elicited on the part of the Commonwealth:

Charles Hoffman, sworn.—Know Edward Mooder, one of the jurors drawn; did not serve a notice on him, as he could not be found.

Sheriff Story, sworn—Did not serve any notice on E. F. Mooder, because I was told no such person was in town.

Deputy Sheriff Ross, sworn—Had a notice for Ebenezer Christy, but was informed that he was out of the county: also one for Daneil Porter, but discovered him to be dead.

The examination of witnesses closed here.

Mr. Charles McCandless, counsel for the Commonwealth, moved to amend by allowing the Clerk to amend the venire, so as to make the dates on it correspond. He thought it was merely a clerical error, and a change could do the defendant no harm.

Mr. Thompson objected, because it was not a clerical error, but doing work now which properly should have been done thirty days before. He continued at some length in support of the motion and the reasons assigned, contending that the Court had no right to allow a change of the record like this, as it would place the business in the hands of clerks and not in the law. He argued further, that but forty-six jurors had been legally summoned to appear, when forty-eight at least were by law required. Until that had been done, the law had been disregarded. He claimed every shadow of a right belonging to the defendant, of which this was an important one; there was not a juror properly qualified for sitting in the box, and the whole trial, if proceeded with, therefore would be illegal, and would in that case ultimately have to be gone over again.

Mr. McCandless followed for the prosecution. He contended that the law had been complied with in every essential particular, and that the error was merely a clerical one, which should not be allowed to delay the trial. Justice to the prisoner, as well as the Commonwealth, demanded this.

In reference to the argument, that only forty-six jurors were summoned, he contended that legally three of the remainder were excluded, and one had answered to his name, so that in fact the jury array was complete. The counsel continued his argument upon this point, which he claimed was the only apparently proper argument advanced, and which, when examined, lost its force, from the facts in the case. When he ceased speaking the Court adjourned until two o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court met at two o'clock. The attendance of spectators (many of whom were ladies) was much larger than at the morning session. The interest in the case evidently is on the increase.

Lewis Z. Mitchell, Esq., counsel for the prisoner, claimed attention in a lengthy argument in favor of quashing the array of jurors, in which he took up the reasons urged therefor, and contended that any of them, singly, in such an important case, should be sufficient, when proven truthful, to accomplish the object aimed at, which was simply justice to the prisoner.

At the conclusion of Mr. Mitchell's argument, Judge McJunkin directed that the officers who made out the list be examined.

Mr. Black, sworn—Was employed in the office of the Clerk of Courts at the time, and under the direction of that officer made out the list of jurors. Knew the venire should have been made out for the 21st day of June; never knew until this morning there was any mistake.

Mr. Eastman, sworn—Was Clerk of the Courts at the time the venire in question was issued; authorized Mr. Black to draw the traverse jurors for the second week of this term of Court and the grand jurors for the first week.

Sheriff Story, re-called—Was sworn before drawing the jury; the others were also sworn; distributed part of the summons personally, another part through my Deputy, and others through acquaintences of the jurors called. [Witness detailed the manner of selecting the jury, making out the venire, serving the summons, &c., which was substantially the same as testified by the Jury Commissioners.] Never knew until today that there was a mistake in the venire; did not look at its date in making out the summons; knew without this when they should be dated.

The argument and testimony on the motion here rested, and the Court adjourned for the day, with the understanding that a decision would be given at the opening of Wednesday morning's session.

The Motion to Quash the Array of Jurors Overruled—The Arraignment—Impannelling of the Jury—Jottings About Town.

BUTLER, PA., June 23, 1869.

The Shugart murder case promises to be one of absorbing interest. The greatest care and deliberation is manifested in the proceedings, and whatever may be the result, the right is certain to prevail. There is a very large number of witnesses on hand, among whom we notice Prof. Otto Wuth, of Pittsburgh, who made a chemical analysis of the contents of the stomach of the victim. Mrs. Shugart seemed remarkably weak in the Court room to-day, and looked as though a few months longer imprisonment would be sufficient to place her out of this world. It is said she has not seen any of her children since her first day's imprisonment, which is a loss she feels very sensibly.

The second day's proceedings commenced on Wednesday morning, the Court opening at the usual hour, Judge McGuffin presiding.

MOTION TO QUASH OVERRULED.

Colonel Thompson stated the prisoner's counsel, after due reflection, had thought it but proper to press their motion to quash the array of jurors, and desired an opinion from the Court.

Judge McGuffin said it had been his desire to have the case proceed without any objection, and the prisoner accorded a free, full and impartial trial: but when the motion was made and argued, it demanded and had received a careful and thorough examination. Answers were returned as follows:

In reference to the first objection, "That no order had been issued by the Court to the Clerk for the issue of a venire, as required by law," the Court held that under the rule governing the practice in such a case heretofore the order had been made by His Honor Judge Agnew, and after an examination he had found rule five, the particular one referred to, to be in accordance with law, and a very just and fair rule. Under it the venire was issued, and the objection was therefore overruled.

His Honor held in reference to the second objection, that by rule five the Clerk had the authority, without direct order from the Court, to issue the venire, and therefore overruled the objection.

The third objection, in reference to the form of writ, was also overruled, His Honor holding that it was according to law.

The fourth objection, as to the date in the venire, was also overruled. The rules provide for the meeting of the Oyer and Terminer and the Court of Quarter Sessions on the second Monday of June, or first week of the term, but the jury trials in the Oyer and Terminer must commence on the second week of the term. The second Monday, 21st June, is but a continuation of the term of which the 14th of June is the first Monday. And the term stated in the venire is correct; the date is merely a clerical error, of no force, and one which the Court would amend, if necessary, as asked by the Commonwealth. Had no date been mentioned at all, the venire, stating the term, would have been correct, because the law fixes the date itself, and it is only necessary to inform a juror at what term he is expected to be present.

The objection to the manner of issuing the summons by the Sheriff was also overruled, because this was merely a matter of convenience, the Sheriff being supposed to do this, or to get it done the best way he could, either by calling personally or by a deputy, or sending with an acquaintance to the residence or place of business of the juror. The law contemplated this when it only allowed a Sheriff thirty cents for delivering the summons; it is a law which should be amended. But there was no irregularity in the service of the summons.

In reference to the objection as to the number of jurors, His Honor held that the official list certified to showed fifty names as drawn, which is the requirement. The list was duly certified, and the addition of Christy's name neither helped nor hurt it, under the circumstances. The next duty then was to give notice to the jurors, forty-eight in any case. The Sheriff did this, but returned four out of the fifty as not found; one of these answers to his name at the roll call of the jury in Court, which is as effective as a notification by the Sheriff; of the other three, one died after he had been drawn and before being notified, rendering service nugatory, which makes forty eight notified legally, the dead juror being considered in law as one of the number properly notified; of the other two, neither are to be found in the county, and the law does not require of officials the performance of an impossibility. So both these returns were good. A full panel was thus returned, and His Honor overruled the objection.

The last objection urged was in reference to the notification of W. H. Gill.

His Honor said instead of W. H. Gill, that W. A. Gill answered the summons, and was discharged. There is no criminal case on record, where a man's middle name, being improperly spelled, was allowed to be sufficient cause for challenge. The Assessors returned the names, and often so abbreviated that difficulty was created. These are errors which cannot be avoided, and as they did not affect the case materially, the objection was overruled.

His Honor concluded: "We therefore think there were fifty regularly drawn jurors, and that the services of the summons were proper. For these reasons, gentlemen, we overrule the motion to quash the array. Let it be put upon the record that there was a motion made to quash the array of jurors, and let it appear the Court overruled the motion."

Col. Thompson, for the defense, then filed a request for a bill of exceptions to be sealed, and Mr. McCandless, for the Commonwealth, filed a replication to the plea of the prisoner's counsel.

THE ARRAIGNMENT.

Everything being now in readiness for the solemn ceremony of arraigning the prisoner, the usual order was made. The subdued hum of whispering and laughing and chatting which had been heard, suddenly ceased. The interested spectators outside crowded closely around the bar, and the attention of the Judges, officials and spectators was irresistibly drawn to the centre of attraction—a spot to the right of the Bench, where sat she who was now to be placed on trial for her life. A silence, deep and painful as the grave, pervaded the Court room as the Clerk proceeded to read in a clear and impressive manner the indictment, charging Philopœna Shugart and Joseph Martin (as accessory) with the crime of administering poison (arsenic), on or about the twentieth day of October, 1868, in the food of Jacob Shugart, from which cause he came to his death.

For a few minutes, during the reading of the first part of the lengthy paper, the prisoner stood with uplifted hand, as is the custom, but very soon sank back into her chair, as though utterly exhausted, and, pale as a corpse, remained seated, with her eyes fixed intently and apparently with a stupefied gaze upon the reader until he had finished, when, assisted by her counsel, she again arose, and in reply to the usual interrogatory, in a low, trembling tone, pleaded "not guilty." Her son-in-law now came in and took a seat beside her, where he remained during the day.

IMPANNELLING THE JURY.

The arraignment being over, the Clerk called the names of the jurors. Absentees were brought in by the Sheriff, and the business of impannelling the jury was proceeded with. The remainder of the morning session was occupied with this business, five jurors having been obtained up to the hour of recess, twelve o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Court met at two o'clock, and continued the impannelling of the jury. In about an hour and a half, four more jurors were sworn in, when the panel was exhausted, the Commonwealth having preremptorily challenged three and the defense fifteen in all. The Court ordered the doors to be locked, and the Sheriff to summon from the spectators persons from which to select talesmen to complete the jury. Several persons were called, but all were rejected. The Court then ordered the Sheriff to "go out among the people and bring in good and true men to the number of thirty, from which to select talesmen, and let them be brought before the Court to-morrow morning."

Judge McGuffin, previous to the adjournment of the Court, addressed a few words to the jury. He said. "Gentlemen—You have now been chosen as jurors in this important case, and it will be necessary to place you under guard as directed by law. You must not hold communication with any one except through the Court. You cannot receive letters except through the same medium. You may write home, or receive newspapers or publications containing nothing in reference to this case. There are present gentlemen of the press who will report the proceedings as they occur and have them published. These papers you must not have until after the trial. All your information must come from the mouths of the witnesses and all your law from the Court. Measures will be taken to let you have proper exercise, and for this purpose the constable in whose charge you will be will attend you and walk outside with you each day. The law, gentlemen, requires all these restrictions, and hope you will cheerfully obey them."

The Court then adjourned until nine o'clock Thursday morning.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The Butler Brass Band favored the inmates of the "Lowry House" with a excellent serenade last evening. They played a number of choice selections, and for a short time they made the air vocal with their inspiring melodies. If it was intended as a compliment to the genial proprietor of the house, we heartily join in the sentiment.

We understand the right of way from the mouth of Coal run, as asked by the Company, for the proposed railroad to Butler, was procured a day or two since, and an acre of ground in Butler secured for a depot. A railroad will materially advance the interests of this place, and we are glad to note some progress in that direction. It is expected that one year hence the road will be completed.

The Herald to-day complains that an organized gang of horse thieves is operating in Butler and adjoining counties. Last week a valuable horse was stolen from the stable of Samuel Brown, Esq. The thieves are supposed to come from Eastern Ohio.

Connoquenessing Hall was radiant this evening with the youth and beauty of the town, who assembled at the opening of the Fair held under the auspices of the Farmers' Club. An abundance of beautiful, bright flowers and fragrant evergreens were used in the decoration of the Hall, which presented an exceedingly handsome appearance. Music, vocal and instrumental, formed a part of the evening's entertainment, and aided very greatly in rendering the occasion the happy success it proved.

Butler lost one of its loveliest belles this morning—Miss Maria A. Niblack—who was united in marriage to Col. W. H. Zimmerman, a soldier of four years' experience, and a resident of Brazil, Indiana. The accomplished lady is a daughter of the late distinguishad Dr. Niblack, one of the most prominent divines in the United Presbyterian denomination. The ceremony took place at six A. M., at the residence of the bride's mother, Main street, and was performed by Rev John Gailey, pastor of the U. P. Church here. There were only a few intimate friends of the bride present, and immediately upon the conclusion of the interesting services the principals left for Niagara on a wedding tour. We acknowledge the receipt of a bountiful supply of cake, with compliments, and extend our hearty congratulations and kindest wishes for the success, prosperity and unalloyed happiness of the twain who have thus been made one.

THE SYMPTONS OF CONSUMPTION.

Paleness of the countenance.
Spitting, or expectoration of pus.
This pus sinks in water.
It is sometimes streaked with blood.
There is chilliness or shiverings, and flashes of heat.
There is a pearly whiteness of the eyes.
The hair of the head falls off.
At times there is a circumscribed red spot on one or both cheeks.
There is swelling of the hands and feet.
There is great debility and emaciation of the body.
There is a high colored state of the urine.
With a deposit on standing like brick dust.
There is oftentimes a great thirst.
The blood is hurried through the arteries and veins.
The pulse is over a hundred, and even as high as one hundred and forty a minute.
The veins on the surface of the body are bluer than usual, and languid.
As the disease progresses the debility increases.
The expectoration becomes more copious.
The finger nails are incurvated.
There is a marasmus and wasting of all the powers of life.
There is often pain in one or both lungs.
There is often diarrhoea and faintness.
There is great sinking of the vital forces.
When there are tubercles, small portions of tuberculous matter will be expectorated.
This tubercular matter has an offensive odor.
On an examination with a lung sound, rattling and gurgling is heard.
There is always more or less cough.
Some of these symptons are always present in pulmonary consumption, and nearly or quite all of them in different stages of the disease.

No disease of which we have any knowledge is so common and so almost invariably fatal; yet this need not be the case if the earlier symptoms were heeded. Time and again we have called attention to Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, which will in every instance of a recent cough arrest the progress of the disease and hinder its development, and even after it has become settled will often cure it and arrest further decay of the lungs.

Sold at the great Medicine Store, No. 167 LIBERTY STREET, one door from St. Clair. Dr. Keyser may be consulted at his LIBERTY STREET OFFICE EVERY DAY UNTIL 12 o'clock, and at his resident office, No. 120 Penn street, from 1 to 4 o'clock.

WORDS OF WEIGHT FOR WIVES MOTHERS.

The superiority of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS over all other tonics and correctives, as a remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections and all complaints of the visceral organs, and as a preventive of malirious disorders, is proverbial; but perhaps it is not so generally known that the ingredients of this famous invigorant and alterative exercise a powerful and most beneficial influence in that numerous and distressing class of ailments, of which so many thousands of delicate women are the patient, uncomplaining victims. The special troubles of the sex, commencing with the dawn of womanhood, and extending over a period of from thirty to thirty-five years, are as readily and certainly relieved by the operation of this admirable vegetable preparation, as any of the complaints common to both sexes, for which it is recommended as a specific. The attention of mothers is invited to its balsamic effect in those peculiar cases of functional irregularity and irritation, which, when neglected or maltreated, destroy the health and shorten the lives of so many invalids. There is no need for the powerful and dangerous drugs too often resorted to in such cases. The mild tonic and restorative action of the BITTERS is all the assistance that nature requires it its struggle to overcome the difficulty, and a vast amount of suffering would be spared to the sex if they placed implicit faith in this wholesome vegetable invigorant, corrective and nervine, and discared the pernicious nostrums advertised by ignorant and mercenary charlatans.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 24, 1869.

The gold premium, after receding to 136¾, advanced to 137, with a firm feeling. The high rates of interest make it very expensive to carry gold and some of the long holders are compelled to sell, but all those who have carried gold for some time are very sanguine in their views and expect high rates just as soon as the effect of the July payments has passed away.

In Government bonds the feeling is less firm, although prices did not yield.

Stocks are firmer and higher, closing with an advance of about one per cent.

Money at seven per cent.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. NEW YORK, June 24, 1869.

Money was very firm up to two o'clock at 7 per cent., and a commission of 1-16 per cent. From two to three the rates were alternately coin interest and 1-32 per cent. flat. After three o'clock money was offered in large amounts at 6 per cent., and finally as low as 5. The demand seemed, however, to have been supplied, and these rates are about nominal. Discounts nominal. The suspension of Whitlock & Wallace, produce dealers, is announced; liabilities heavy. Sterling firm at 9½@9⅝ per cent. Gold opened at 137¼, fell to 136¾, advanced to 137¼, closing at 137. Carrying rates, 1-16@3-64 per cent.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 24, 1869.

The markets generally are dull and without important change. There is considerable feeling in regard to Flour and notwithstanding it has advanced considerably in the west, dealers here, under the influence of a pretty sharp competition, are apparently afraid to make a corresponding advance. As a consequence, Flour is being sold cheaper than it can be brought here, with freight added. While it is true that the advance is not likely to be maintained, yet, heretofore, it has been usual when there was an advance in the west to put prices up here, but our market is in such a peculiar shape that one dealer will not make a advance, being apprehensive that his neighbor might continue to sell at the old price, and thus take away his custom. Consumers, however, have every reason to be satisfied, as they are able to buy the "staff of life" at about western prices, while dealers, we have reason to know, are very much dissatisfied and some of them are doubtless very much disgusted with the business.

APPLE BUTTER—Sales at 50@$1,00, per gallon as to quality.

BUTTER—Is quiet and unchanged; sales of good to prime at 23@25.

BEANS—Dull at $2@2,25.

CHEESE—Is dull but unchanged; Common Western 16@17; Factory, 18@19; and Goshen, at 20@21.

CARBON OIL — Is firmer, though there is no improvement to note in the demand.

DRIED FRUIT—Is very dull and almost out of season. Peaches are being sold at 10@12 for quarters, and 15@16 for halves. Apples 11@13, as to quality.

EGGS—Unchanged at 18.

FEATHERS — Supply in hands of commission men almost exhausted. Live geese may be quoted at 85@90, to the trade, and $1 in a retail way.

FLOUR—Is decidedly firmer, but, as already noted, dealers generally are afraid to make an advance. Western Flours are still quoted at $6,00@6,50 for Springs, and $7@7,50 for Winters.

GRAIN—Wheat is scarce, in demand, with sales Winter at $1,30@1,37, as to quality. Rye is dull with little or none in market; small sales at $1,12@1,15. Sale 2 cars mixed Corn at 74—prime Yellow would bring more, but there is none here. Barley is quiet—but little offering, and but little wanted.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; baled is still quoted on wharf at $20@25, per ton, as to quality.

HUSKS—Sales at 3 cts per pound.

HEMP—Sales at $210.

LIME—Cleveland Lime is quoted at $2,50, per bbl, and Common White at $1,75.

LARD OIL—Is firmer, in sympathy with the advance in Lard, and tending upward.

PEANUTS—Small sales at 12c.

POTATOES—Small sales of old crop at 40@45 per bushel, and new at $8,25@3,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Firmer and a shade higher. We now quote Shoulders, at 14¾@15; Ribbed Sides, 17½@17¾; Clear Sides, 18¼@18¾; Breakfast Bacon, 21; 21@21½ for Sugar Cured Hams and 16¾@16¾ for Sugar Cured Shoulders. Dried Beef, 21. Mess Pork, $33,75. Lard, 20 in tierces, 21 in hf bbls, and 21 in pails and kegs.

SEEDS—The demand for Clover and Timothy Seeds seems to have almost entirely subsided. Flaxseed would sell but there is none in market.

SALT—Is dull and drooping; may be quoted at $1,70 by the car load.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY June 24, 1869.

The market is reported as having closed last evening and opened this morning a little weak, but as the day advanced a stronger feeling seemed to be developed, and at the close this afternoon, firmness seemed to be the main characteristic, though, as has been the case for some time past, there was but comparatively little business transacted. Antwerp has advanced another quarter of a france, being quoted this evening at 49¼. It is reported that there were several large sales in Antwerp yesterday, on Eastern account, (supposed to be New York,) and it was intimated by some parties that this was a little piece of strategy on the part of the "bulls" to make a point. For some time past it has been supposed that New York was "bearish," but it is possible that the manipulators there may have changed their tactics, and gone over to the other side. These, however, are mere conjectures, and we give them as matters of news, not pretending to vouch for their correctness.

CRUDE.

The market is firm with but little offering and compared with yesterday prices are a shade higher. Sales of 500 bbls June, at 14¾; 1090 spot, at 14¾; 1000 July, at 15; and 1000 each July and August, at 15. Telegrams from Oil City report higher prices, but buyers appeared to be scarce at the advance, as there was little or nothing done in the afternoon.

REFINED

Sale of 500 each July to September, at 33¼; 2000 June, at 32; and 2000 July, at 32¾. As in the case of Crude, the market was firm with but little offering, and there was but little done.

A LETTER FROM BOSTON.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, June 21, 1869.

EDITORS GAZETTE: The great event in Boston's history has come and gone. The people breathe free, and are almost surprised to find that they live at all without some sensation.

The streets of Boston have presented an appearance during the past week such as never before, and it will be many a day before we shall see the like again.

The multitudes of people that crowded the streets, the common, and the hotels, were beyond belief, and where they all found places to lay their heads at night, I cannot imagine.

I am told that during the five days of the Jubilee, the railroads alone brought into Boston five hundred thousand people or an average of one hundred thousand per day, or twice as many as the "Coliseum" would hold, singers and all.

Thursday, the 17th inst., was the great day, being the anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill and a public holiday. On that day the restaurants were eaten out, and had to close their doors, and more failed than succeeded in gaining admittance to the concert in the "Coliseum."

All sorts of vehicles were called into requisition to carry people to and from the concerts, and all were more than full. The streets near the Coliseum were in a state of blockade more or less of the time. The street cars had a bad trick of getting off the track, and wagons would break down.

There must have been a big axe to grind somewhere in this scheme. There were great doubts of its success, and the expenses had to be guaranteed. The merchants of Boston expected to make a good thing of it, and have been disappointed; trade was dull during the entire week. They did not forget to advertise liberally, and many firms flooded the press headquarters with their circulars and books.

The manager of the Boston Meseum gave an entertainment "complimentary to the press of the United States, as represented at the National Peace Jubilee," to which the correspondents had tickets.

The representatives of the press were invited to visit various places of interest, among others the art publishing establishment of L. Prang & Co., where, having a curiosity to see how chromos are made, I went and got a little insight into the art and mystery of printing in colors. Chromo lithography is certainly a most wonderful art, and a visit to Messrs. Prang & Co.'s establishment will well repay any one for the trouble.

Your exchanges will doubtless give you all the details of the jubilee, and it would be labor thrown away for me to go over them. There appears to be but one opinion (except on the part of the New York World,) and that is commendatory. As for myself, I was more than gratified. From the first note of the chorus, any one could see that it was bound to be a success. There never was anything of the kind more admirably managed, and from the conductors to the police, all knew their places, and were in them at the right time.

Of the conductors, I was more pleased with Mr. P. S. Gilmore and Mr. Julius Eichberg, than with Mr. Carl Zeiahn, who appeared to make more fuss than there was any necessity for, and to spread himself considerably.

Mr. Gilmore I met privately, and was much pleased with him. He is a modest, pleasant-spoken man, and although gratified and tickled at the success of his scheme, he does not appear to plume himself upon it at all.

The Executive Committee of the Jubilee gave a concert on Sabbath evening, which was largely attended, although the building was not over two-thirds full.

The programme was made up of repetitions of pieces given during the week, except in two or three instances, and was very enjoyable. The chorus was cut down about half and the orchestra more. But the great, unapproachable organ was still there, (as it will be until August 1st,) and pealed forth its immense harmonies with a depth, power, breadth, and grandeur that enchained the attention of the listener.

The pedal notes of this instrument are the most magnificent I ever heard. They are not a mere roar, but sound like an immense bow drawn by a Titan.

The builders, Messrs. E. & G. G. Hook, were themselves surprised at the effect of the instrument; it is splendid. The organ is at least four times as powerful as any organ in this country, and is undoubtedly the most powerful instrument in the world. It is to be hoped that when its work in the Coliseum is done, that it will not be thrown out of use, but will be transferred to some church where it may continue its grand mission of peace and good will.

B.

Small Bed Chambers.

There is reason to believe that more cases of dangerous and fatal diseases are gradually engendered annually by the habit of sleeping in small, unventilated rooms than have occurred from a cholera atmosphere in any year since it made its appearance in this country. Very many persons sleep in eight by ten rooms; that is, in rooms the length and breadth of which, multiplied again by ten for the height of the chamber, would make just eight hundred cubic feet, while the cubic feet for each bed, according to the English apportionment for hospitals, is twenty-one hundred feet. But more, in order "to give the air of sick rooms the highest degree of freshness," the French hospitals contract for the complete renewal of the air of a room every hour, while the English assert that double the amount, or over four thousand feet an hour, is required. Four thousand feet of air an hour! and yet there are multitudes who sleep with closed doors and windows in rooms which do not contain a thousand cubic feet of space, and that thousand feet is to last all night, at least eight hours, except such scanty supply as may be obtained of any fresh air that may insinuate itself through little crevices by door or window. Multitudes thus perish prematurely, and infant children wilt away like flowers without water.

SIR HENRY RAWLINSON has found Eden. He maintains that the Babylonian documents in our possession will give us the whole history which is recorded in Genesis from the time of Abraham. The Garden of Eden, he asserts, is the primeval name of Babylon.

Vermont Butter.

Tuesday is the regular butter day. The farmers from all the surrounding towns come in with their two horse teams and market wagons with the last week's churnings in ashen tubs. The wide streets are alive. Over four hundred wagons are gathered round the square, and the farmers, with their wives and daughters, are bargaining off the products of their dairies, or making purchases at the stores.

It is interesting to watch the farmers making their bargains with the traders. It is diamond against diamond. Shrewdness is an inherited trait of the Vermonters. Men who get up at three o'clock in the morning, who have their cows milked and in the pastures before the sun is up, and who drive spanking teams ten miles to market before six o'clock, are not likely to be overreached in a bargain.

These farmers, in slouched hats and thick boots, are lords of the soil. No peer of England's realm—not the Duke of Devonshire, with his deer parks at Chatworth, his long walks and avenues, and splendid palace—is more independent than these land lords of St. Albans. If they were to elevate one of their number to a peerage of their own, an appropriate title would be Duke of Butterland, and this round-faced woman before me, whose hands have moulded the yellow balls in the ashen tub fit for an honest man to spread on his bread, should be Countess of Churn!

These dairymen are our true aristocracy. "They look the whole world in the face; for they owe not any man."

They are owners of the soil. It is their business to turn these buttercups and dandelions, and succulent grasses into golden butter. They are rich. They are inteligent enough to comprehend what is going on in the world. St. Albans buttermen are shrewd enough to sell the products of their dairies, instead of holding of higher prices. They don't get their fingers burnt after the manner of the Minnesota wheat growers.

"These men," says a gentlemen residing here, "are all holders of Government bonds. They have money in the bank. They live well and enjoy life."

We have not yet been able to understand why St. Albans is able to make the market for butter throughout the country, but so it is. It may be interesting for your readers to see how much is earned by the churn and cheese press in the eight or nine towns which send their produce to St. Albans. The amount shipped from 1851 to December 31, 1868, was 19,384,425 lbs. of butter, and 41,540, 693 lbs. of cheese. If the value of the product be reckoned at thirty-three cents per pound for butter, the total amounts would be $13,708,497; and if we reckon cheese at fourteen cents per pound, the value would be $2,713,805, or a total of $16,422,303 for dairy products since 1851.

Nearly $1,000,000 per annum is received by the farmers of those towns for butter and cheese alone.

Episcopal.

The following was the order of service at the Episcopal Diocesan Convention of Central New York, at Trinity Church, Utica, on the 16th inst:

Processional—Selection 123, tune Lyons; Venite, Boyce's Chant; The Psalter (chanted to Aldrich, Woodward and Randall's Chants,) the 8th Selection; Te Deum, Seiboth in D; Jubilate 8th Gregorian Tone; Intrait, Selection 106, tune Coventry; Responses to Commandments and Gloria Tibi sung.

Before Sermon, Hymn 216, Hymns Ancient and Modern; after Sermon, Hymn 135 do.; at offeratory Hymn 145 do; Tersanctus, Goria in Excelsis and Hymn 94 sung in communion service.

The Processional was Hymn 61, Hymns Ancient and Modern. Bishop Huntingdon, under whose authority this service was held, was the candidate of the Low Church party for the Bishoprick of Pittsburgh in days gone by. At the opening service, the evening before, in Grace Church, (Rev. Dr. VanDeusen's) there were Processional and Recessional Hymns, and the Psalms (5th Selection) were sung. The interior of the Church was decorated for the occasion with flowers, trailing vines, banners, inscriptions, &c., &c.

THE Spanish government intends to apply to the French government for the extradition of a bogus Bishop, who has committed a great many swindling transactions in Spain. After collecting in the peninsula a very large amount of contributions for a charitable purpose, which he asserted had been sanctioned by the Pope himself, he swindled the landlady of a hotel at Logrono in a rather singular manner. The Bishop, accompanied by a young man, who he said was his nephew, had stopped at the principal hotel of the small Spanish town, which was kept by a middla-aged woman. The nephew courted this landlady, married her and caused the Bishop to bless his union with her. No sooner had the wedding taken place than the Bishop and the nephew sold the property of the landlady and decamped with the funds. The scamps are now said to be in Paris, where several Spanish detectives are hunting for them.

DEMOLITION OF THE LUXEMBURG.—If there appeared to be some delay in the first instance in the demolition of the fortification of Luxemburg, it is at any rate, proceeding now in good earnest. A very large work called the Bastion Camus was destroyed three weeks ago. It was originally commenced in 1556, under Austro-Spanish rule, but was not finished for 141 years, when Louis XIV, in 1697 completed it, at the same time with another large work called Bastion Jost. The foundation walls were nearly six metres, or about twenty feet in thickness. On the recent occasion the object was effected by eleven large mines, which had been sunk to the depth of eight metres, or nearly twenty-seven feet. The operation was the more difficult on account of proximity of the town, as a little error in the calculation of the force employed, or of its direction, might have destroyed more than was intended. However, there were no accidents, and Herr Sivering, the engineer, has obtained much credit for his success.

THE experiment of providing specially for infants brought in arms to the Royal Alfred Theatre, in London, proved a very great success in one respect. The children left were so numerous that it became necessary to post up notices that no more could be admitted. It was discovered, however, that the mothers who brought their babes looked upon the institution as a foundling hospital, and did not call promptly for their off-spring. There is an accumulation of babies, and the management does not know what to do with them, but the "children's cloak room" has been closed.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, when all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. my19:151-d&F

Rav; Directors, Messrs. A. W. Irwin, C. C. Boyle, James Caldwell, A. H. English, Robert Lea, Jas. McBrier and Henry Phipps, Jr.

The Concert Last Night.

The vocal and instrumental concert last evening, under the auspices of St. Pauls New Orchestra Band, proved a great success. The programme was excellent and embraced a number of fine choruses, duets and solos, many of our talented amateur vocalists participating. The solos by the Misses McChristal, Henne, Mooney and Mrs. Scully were rendered in fine style and elicited hearty encores. The instrumental performances by the Orchestra and Silver Cornet Bands were deservedly entitled to praise. Altogether the affair was a pleasant one and will bear repetition.

The Soldiers' Monument.

Mayor Drum, in compliance with the request of a large number of citizens, most of whom were contributors to the Soldiers' Monument fund, has issued a call for a public meeting, to be held in front of the City Building, Saturday evening next, to protest against the action of the Association in deciding to place the Monument in Allegheny Cemetery.

A petition is in circulation in this city, and is being numerously signed, requesting Mayor Brush to call a meeting of the citizens for the purpose stated above.

The Sunday Demonstration—Meeting of the Allegheny Committee—An Address to be Issued.

The Committee appointed at the recent meeting in Rev. J. B. Clark's Church, South Common, Allegheny, to meet with the Committee of Arrangements from the German Societies who propose to celebrate the Fourth of July on Sunday, assembled last evening in City Hall, Allegheny. James Park, Jr., Esq., Chairman, and seven members of the Committee, in connection with Mayor Drum, were present.

A general interchange of opinion was had, after which Mr. Slagle moved that the Committee prepare a written address, to be presented to Mr. Bauer, Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, requesting that the celebration be postponed until Monday, the 5th inst.

The motion was adopted, and Messrs. Slagle, Jennings and Hoskinson were appointed a Committee to prepare the address. Mr. Park, the Chairman, was afterwards added to the Committee.

The Committee then adjourned until Monday evening.

Market Quotations.

On this page this morning we devote a full column to the quotation of market prices, as compiled from the sales of the enterprising and highly responsible produce commission business firm of Voigt, Mahood & Co., No, 257 Liberty street. This house, one of the staunchest and best managed in the city, transacts an immense yearly business, and has correspondents and consignees at nearly every important agricultural and fruit growing centres of the country. They manage their business on a liberal system, and are just and honorable in all their business dealings. Letters of inquiry regarding markets and the prospects, are always promptly answered by return mail. We earnestly and heartily commend this firm to the confidence and patronage of our readers, knowing whereof we speak in endorsing them as fair dealing and honorable business gentlemen. The qutations will prove especially interesting to country dealers and producers, as they are strictly correct.

Action of the German Library Association in Regard to the Proposed Celebration of the Fourth.

Yesterday evening a number of gentlemen—members of the German Leseverein—met in their library and reading room, on Liberty street, and adopted and subscribed to a set of resolutions which were drawn up and presented by Dr. Meinertzhagen. The sentiment of the resolutions, which we received at too late an hour for full translation, is that the statutes of the Association forbid the discussion of all questions bearing upon the religious or political opinions of individual members; that, therefore, the society cannot officially take part in the proposed celebration of the anniversary of the American Declaration of Independence on Sunday, the 4th of next July, and that each member must act as he sees fit in this respect. But that it is unseemly that an association representing so weighty a portion of the German population of the vicinity, should not express its opinion on a question so important to all of the German people of the neighborhood. That while the Association wishes that the agitation of this question, brought on by a number of Germans, had, from the beginning, been characterized by more respect for and deference to the religious prejudices of our American fellow citizens, it cannot see anything wrong in the proposed demonstration, (which, according to the programme, will be ordered with due regard to the solemnity of the day, and without offence to religious feelings of those who think differently,) and that the society must express its deep regret that a number of American ministers have not refrained from reviling with blind fanatacism and in an unchristian spirit our German population, and have characterized as immoral and irreligious blasphemers our respected fellow citizens who design to take part in the celebration of the coming 4th of July.

THE COURTS.

District Court—Judges Hampton and Kirkpatrick.

THURSDAY, June 24.—The argument list occupied the time of the Court, and will be continued until it is finished.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

THURSDAY, June 24.—J. W. Hammond, indicted for illegal liquor selling, plead nolle contendere. Sentence deferred.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Jacob Fluxman, indicted for larceny, Maria Reight prosecutrix. The defendant was charged with stealing $20 in paper money and $20 in gold from the house of the prosecutrix in the Third ward, Allegheny, on the 7th of April last. Verdict of guilty. The prisoner, when called up for sentence, stated that he received the money from a son of the prosecutrix, who took it out of a trunk and and gave it to him in payment for a hand organ, which he, the defendant, sold to the boy. The Court sentenced the prisoner to pay the costs and three months imprisonment in the county jail.

A petition praying for the division of Versailles township was presented, and the Court ordered that Saturday, the 4th day of September, be fixed as the day for holding an election in the township, as prayed for in the petition, to determine the matter, notice to be given in the manner and form as required by law.

William Milligan, Michael Milligan and John McClain, indicted for assault and battery, Andrew McGinness prosecutor, were next placed on trial. This case originated out of a difficulty which occurred on Pennsylvania avenue, some few weeks since, during which the prosecutor was severely beaten by the defendants. The jury returned a verdict of guilty as indicted as to William and Michael Milligan, and guilty of assault and battery as to McClain. Michael Milligan was recommended to the mercy of the Court.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. William Milligan and Jno. McClain, indicted for aggravated assault and battery, B. McGinness prosecutor. This case originated out of the same difficulty as that above stated. The jury returned a verdict as to Milligan of guilty as indicted, and as to McClain guilty of assault and battery. The defendants were remanded for sentences.

Thos. Sheridan and Patrick Foley, indicted for selling liquor without license, were next placed on trial. It was alleged that the accused sold beer at the Boilers' Pic Nic, at Patrick's Grove. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and directed the defendants to pay the costs.

The next case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. S. T. Miller, indicted for the larceny of $60 from the prosecutor, Samuel Whitely. The case was tried previously, and a verdict of guilty rendered, but a new trial granted. On trial.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

THURSDAY, June 24.—The case of Mills vs. Kirkpatrick et al, heirs of Geo. H. Bell, dec'd, is still on trial.

James R. Reed & Co.'s Jewelry House, No. 68 Fifth Avenue.

The jewelry house of Messrs. James R. Reed & Co., No. 68 Fifth avenue, has just emerged from a series of repairs, and is hardly recognizable as the old place. Elegant and luxurious plate glass windows, lined with rosewood, have supplanted the old ones, and, in fact, an entire change has been wrought in the front and entrance, and the salesroom presents a very handsome appearance. The stock of fine jewelry, watches, clocks and silver ware has been largely increased, and both in quality and quantity offers wide range to the purchaser for selection. A specialty is made of silver ware, solid and plated, and we direct especial attention to the display made of silver plated ice pitchers, doubly walled and lined with porcelain. They are superb articles in their way and vastly superior to any we have ever examined. The firm have always sustained high reputation as honorable gentlemen. They are content to receive reasonable profits on their goods, and in no case make false representation to secure a sale. The latter feature cannot be too highly appreciated, especially when one sets out to buy jewelry where so much dependence is to be placed in the honor of the dealer. Purchasers can rest assured that what Messrs. Reed & Co. represent about their goods can be relied upon as strictly correct. We hope, with their increased business facilities and new stock, that the house will receive an increase in the large share of patronage hitherto directed towards them. Their old friends and customers must remember that they still occupy No. 68 Fifth avenue, the old stand, although it may not be recognized as such in its present fine appearance.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Duprez & Benedict Minstrels will occupy the Opera House during next week, commencing Monday, June 28th. PLEASANT OCCASION.

Presentation to a Very Worthy Official.

Mr. Samuel Dobson, Supervisor of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad between Pittsburgh and Latrobe, has for ten years or more filled that responsible position with tact and ability, meriting and receiving the confidence and respect of his employers. In closely guarding the interests of the company and proving faithful to all his duties, he was equally careful of those under his supervision and his kind, generous and contiderate treatment of his men won their golden opinions, their love, respect and well wishes. In order to make him feel that his uniform kindness and generosity were appreciated the workmen, together with a number of the officials of the road at this end, and other personal friends, arranged to present him with a substantial mark of their regard for him as a man and officer. Accordingly a large sum of money was subscribed, and with such whole souled gentlemen as Messrs. Isaac Good, T. J. Louis, E. Redman, R. McElroy, H. Keely and D. Snyder, as a Committee of Arrangements, a presentation and a supper were arranged. The Committee elected to purchase as good a watch as could be obtained in the country, and as massive and elegant a chain as Dunseath, the jeweller, could procure; and they decided also to have all the friends of the recipient sit down to as sumptuous a supper as only McPherson, the clever host of the Great Eastern Exchange hotel knows how to get up. The first part of the pragramme was entrusted to Mr. W. G. Dunseath, 56 Fifth avenue, who supplied one of the finest watches and chains we have ever examined. The chronometer was of the United States Company's best make and movement. It was supplied with a stem winder, adjusted to variations in the temperature and position, and was as perfect a piece of mechanism as Mr. Dunseath could procure from the great watch company for which he is agent in this city. We are glad to notice the high favor in which these time pieces are held, and Mr. D. must congratulate himself on the success of his great exertions to introduce them into notice in this market. The chain was massive and bore as a charm a pretty stone seal, mounted in gold and having engraved on its face a coat of arms. The presents cost about five hundred dollars.

Last night the presentation ceremony drew together at the Great Eastern Exchange, East Liberty, more than three hundred guests, principally gentlemen connected with the railroad between here and Latrobe, and personal friends of the recipient. At eight o'clock the meeting was called to order by our worthy friend Mr. Walter Kirkpatrick, conductor, on whose motion the following officers were called to preside—President, Jesse Yarnell; Vice President, T. J. Louis; Secretaries, members of the press. Mr. John Routh, the popular, accommodating and efficient conductor of the Walls' accommodation train, then stepped forward and delivered this neatly worded and happy

PRESENTATION SPEECH.

MR DOBSON, SIR: I have been asked by your many friends, of this division, to present you this watch as a token of their regard for you, and appreciation of you as an officer and a gentleman. There are times in our lives that words, no matter how well spoken, fail to convey the true intent of their meaning, and one of them is the present occasion. A few of your friends have concluded to demonstrate their feeling of friendship and esteem for you as an officer of the great and growing Pennsylvania Railroad Company. We can testify that your duties have never been neglected while in the service of the Company. Our road has become famously known for its safe and successful management, which has secured for it the largest confidence of the public, and let us say here, to mark an era in its history, that within the last ten days, over it, in safety went the first car through, from the "Atlantic" coast to the "Pacific" slope.

In the future, may you look back with pride, and think that a man can do justice to his employers, and at the same time command the respect of his employes. We ask you to accept this watch and its accompaniments as a mark of our esteem for you, and as you wear it may it prove a constant reminder that you are not unappreciated or unobserved by those about you; that your efforts to promote the best interests of the Company are endorsed by your associates and employes, and may we indulge in the hope that in your service it may mark the lapse of many years. May your road-bed be solid, and your track smooth: your grades easy through life. That you may always have health, happiness and prosperity is the earnest desire of all your friends here to-night.

Mr. Dobson responded happily and expressed his gratitude to the donors in a feeling manner, after which rousing cheers were given for him, for Mr. Routh, for Mr. Dunseath and for Mr. Kirkpatrick. A speech complimentary to the recipient was made by Mr. Robert Ramsey, and he was followed by Mr. Walter Kirkpatrick in the same strain. Mr. Edw. Redman paid a high tribute to Mr. Dobson, and his remarks were eloquent and well directed. Mr. Gross also delivered a happy speech. The meeting then adjourned to the dining-room, which had been adorned with flags and festoons, and where a splendid supper was waiting. Mr. McPherson, the host, has wide spread reputation as a caterer, and on this occasion he more than sustained it. After the cloths were removed, champaigne was introduced, and a general good and jolly time of mirth, song and speech-making was had up till midnight, when the party separated. The occasion was very enjoyable and well managed, and reflected credit to all concerned.

The Wonders of Co-operation.

If we take 1,000 individuals with $250 each, all experience shows that for every one of them who accumulates a fortune, or even a competency, ten or twenty will die with nothing, and leave their families in poverty. This comes of the "every man for himself" idea. Now let these 1,000 men put their money into a common fund, and at six per cent. it will pay the heirs of every one of them one thousand dollars at his death, and there will be a surplus left when the last man is dead. If instead of $250 they each contribute $300 it will establish a permanent fund, which will not only pay their immediate heirs, but will also give one thousand dollars to the heirs of one of the descendants of each of them in every generation FOREVER. Incredible as this may appear, a very little arithmetic is required to show that it is absolutely true. It is on this principle that the Co operative Life Insurance can accomplish results thought to be impossible by the advocates of the old plans.

Pittsburgh Ft. W. & C. R. W. Company—Special Meeting—Lease to the Pennsylvania R. R. Company for Nine Hundred and Ninety-nine Years.

The Stock and Bond Holders of the P. Ft. W. & C. R. W. Co., met at the general office of the company, in this city at 10 o'clock, A. M., yesterday, pursuant to a call from the President, as provided for at the annual meeting in March last. The meeting was opened by James S. Croft, Esq., President of annual meeting taking the chair, and F. W. Hutchinson acting as Secretary.

The President of the company, by instruction of the Board of Directors, submitted for consideration and action, a lease of the Railway and property of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company, for a period of nine hundred and ninety-nine years, which had been agreed upon between the respective Boards of Directors of that company and of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which lease had been executed on behalf of the latter company, on the 7th inst, and now only awaits the affirmative action of this meeting to be executed and delivered on the part of this company.

On motion of Jacob Henrici, Esq., the lease was read by the Secretary in extenso, occupying about one hour and a half in the reading, and containing twenty-two articles. As a legal paper the lease seems to have been very full and explicit, and to have been drawn with great care.

After the reading of the lease, J. F. D. Lanier, Esq., offered the following resolution, upon which a vote of stock was called and tellers ordered:

Resolved, That we, the stockholders and bondholders of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company, hereby assent to and approve of the lease of the railways of said Company to the Pennsylvania Railway Company for the period of nine hundred and ninety-nine years, upon the terms and conditions, and for the annual rental reserved and mentioned in a certain indenture of lease thereof, bearing date on the 7th day of June, 1869, executed by or on behalf of the said Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and submitted to us; and that we hereby assent to and approve of the execution and delivery of such lease on behalf of the said Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company. Provided, however, that this assent and approval shall not be construed to waive, alter or impair the existing liens of the respective deeds of trust or mortgage by which the payment of the respective bonds is secured, but that this assent and approval is hereby expressly declared, and is given upon the condition that the said lease shall be and ever after be deemed and taken to be subordinate to the aforsaid liens.

Resolved, That the assent of the Stockholders is hereby given to the making by the Board of Directors of the Company, of such a contract as is contemplated in Article Fourteenth of the Lease this day submitted upon the terms and conditions, and upon the approval and assumption by the Lessee, as in the said article contemplated.

Resolved, That inasmuch as in and by the provisions of the Lease of the Railway of this Company to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, after satisfying the liabilities of the Company for interest and sinking funds, a perpetual dividend fund is provided, adequate to pay twelve per cent. upon the existing stock of this Company, free and clear of all taxes which may operate as a deduction from said dividends, it is expedient that a guarantee stock, entitled to dividends at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, payable quarterly in such form and with such guarantees as the Board of Directors may prescribe, and of such aggregate amount as the annual rental of one million three hundred thousand dollars shall suffice to pay dividends upon at the aforesaid rate of seven per cent. per annum, shall be created, and that the same shall be issued in substitution of the now existing stock, in such manner and on such terms as the Board of Directors may provide, and that the Board of Directors, and such committee or officers as they may designate, are hereby vested with all powers which the stockholders can confer, and which may be necessary or proper to carry this substitution into complete effect.

A motion to proceed to vote by ballot on the propositions severally was adopted.

The meeting then adjourned to re-assemble at ten o'clock this morning, to receive the report of the tellers.

It is supposed that about $15,000,000 of shares and bond capital voted at the meeting yesterday, of which over $14,000,000 voted in favor of the lease and less than one million against it. The larger portion of the vote against the lease is supposed to have been voted by the President of the company.

Commencement of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

This evening the closing exercises of the collegiate year of the University take place at the Third Presbyterian Church, and as every body takes an interest in the institution, the seats free and the exercises of a very interesting character, we suppose that the building will be completely filled. At 7¼ o'clock in the evening a procession, marshaled by Capt. Geo. D. Ramsey, of the U. S. Arsenal at Lawrenceville, and composed of the students, trustees and faculty of the University, and a large number of the clergy and other prominent gentlemen of the city, will march from the University, on Diamond street, to the Church, on Sixth avenue. At 7½ the commencement exercises will begin. The programme is an exceedingly interesting one. The latin salutatory will be delivered by Mr. H. Fullerton Hughes, and the valedictory address by Mr. Charles Crosby Dickey, a young gentleman who seems to stand as well with the students as with the faculty, for it will be remembered he was the recipient of the wooden spoon, awarded to the most popular member of the class at the recent class day exercises. Six other original essays will be delivered by various members of the graduating class, as well as two orations for the degree of A. M. by two of the alumni, Messrs. Guthrie and Gordon. The programme will be interspersed with music on the superb organ of the church by C. C. Mellor.

In glancing over the catalogue of this institution, we notice several important changes. The chair of rhetoric, formerly vacant, is now filled by Rev. E. P. Crane, A. M., formerly professor of Latin, and the Latin professor is now J. E. Ayres, A. M., formerly head of the preparatory department, which is now under the charge of Levi Ludden, A. M. Two departments, those of military science and civil and mechanical engineering, have been added to the course of study, under the direction of Major W. J. L. Nicodemus, of the U. S. army. Another important change is that after the completion of the freshman year, the further study of the classics and mathematics is optional with the student. If he sees fit they can be dropped and some of the higher English branches and modern languages may be substituted. Altogether the University is rapidly progressing and improving. The list of the working faculty is large, and the number of attending students satisfactory and increasing.

Grand Closing Out Sale—Fleming, No. 139 Wood Street, Again Leads in Great Bargains.

The reader is sufficiently well aware of the fact that ordinarily the most reasonable prices for hats and caps, either at wholesale or retail, are those to be obtained at the popular and well conducted house of Mr. William Fleming, No. 139 Wood street. He always sells cheap, whether in winter, when he transacts an immense trade in ladies' furs, drawing thousands to his establishment and leading the trade, or in the spring, summer or fall, when he devotes more especial attention to his hat and cap departments; but when he announces, as he elsewhere does, in this day's paper, that he has entered upon a grand closing out sale, he means to sacrifice goods without any regard to original cost. There is no humbugging about this old established house, no baits are thrown out to catch the unwary, but all sound business. When Mr. Fleming advertises to give bargains to his customers, he means to live up fairly and squarely with his promise, being much too honorable in his character and dealings to resort to any trickery to sustain or increase the great popularity of his house. In the present instance he advertises to do so, and he is in earnest. In order to make extensive improvements in his store rooms he desires to get rid of his large stock as far as possible to greater expedite the contemplated repairs, and to accomplish that end, advertises a closing-out sale which will continue from this date to the 15th of next month. The immense stock to be thus disposed of at great bargains consists of men and boy's fur and wool hats, gents cassimere and fine silk hats, men, boy's and children's brown and fancy straw goods. The goods are all new and fashionable and of late purchase. Remember the place, No. 139 Wood street, and if you are wise and would save money, pay the house a visit.
